Wyeth v. Impax Laboratories, Inc., Civil Action No.: 06-222 (D. Del.)

Dear Joseph:

We write in response to Daniel Kassabian's letter of May 3, 2007. We fail to understand why Impax "seek[s] compliance" with the Court's October 26, 2006 Memorandum Order ("October 26th Order"). Wyeth has produced all of the items it represented to the Court that it would produce, and is in full compliance with the October 26th Order.

Mr. Kassabian, in his May 3rd letter, seeks production of Teva's proposed amended answers that were attached to the letter from Michael E. Patunas to the Court dated February 22, 2005, in connection with the Teva litigation, implying that these answers were the subject of the Court's October 26th Order. It is clear, however, from the correspondence leading up to the October 26th Order, that the amended answers that Impax had requested and that Wyeth agreed to produce were the proposed amended answers that were submitted with the April 1, 2005 Declaration of Lana A. Shvartsman. See, e.g., July 31, 2006 letter from S. Ernst to L. Wadler; August 1, 2006 letter from M. Matterer to H. Dinger; August 2, 2006 letter from L. Wadler to S. Ernst. And, in accordance with the October 26th Order, these documents were produced as WYETH 318-004757-4773 and WYETH 318-004775-4789. The request for exhibits A and B to the February 22, 2005 Michael E. Patunas letter was presented for the first time in Mr. Kassabian's May 3rd letter and falls beyond the scope of Wyeth's proffered production as incorporated by the October 26th Order. We fail to see why Wyeth is obligated to produce these proposed amended answers.

Furthermore, Impax's request for the parties' letter briefing as to the February 22, 2005 amended answers is also beyond what the Court required Wyeth to produce. Indeed, although Impax had requested such pleadings from the Teva litigation on pages 1 and 2 of its August 10th Motion to Compel, the Court denied this portion of Impax's Motion, concluding that "Impax has not shown that the documents requested from the Teva Litigation, beyond what Wyeth has already produced or offered to produce, are critical to resolving the issues before the Court." See October 26th Order, at 2. Therefore, this issue has already been litigated, and Impax's attempt to resurrect it is improper.

With respect to your second paragraph, although Impax requested meet and confer correspondence between Wyeth and Teva on November 22, 2006, we consider this issue also resolved, based on Mr. Kassabian's letter of January 3, 2007. Impax had requested such meet and confer correspondence in connection with its Document Request Nos. 114-121. As we explained on page 3 of our December 8, 2006 letter, although we considered Impax's request for such correspondence, the burden of collecting, identifying, and reviewing for confidential information subject to the Teva litigation protective order, far outweighs any relevance that additional meet and confer correspondence would have in the present case. Mr. Kassabian's January 3, 2007 letter acknowledged that our December 8, 2007 letter "put[] to rest the majority of the issues Impax has raised." Mr. Kassabian's January 3rd letter failed to reiterate any request for meet and confer correspondence between Wyeth and Teva from the Teva litigation. Therefore, as per Mr. Kassabian's own representations, this matter has already been "put[] to rest."

It is difficult to discern why Impax has opted to raise issues that have long been resolved. We trust that these issues will not surface yet again.

Sincerely,

Barbara R. Rudolph

Re: Wyeth v. Impax Laboratories, Inc., Civil Action No.: 06-222 (D. Del.)

Dear Ms. Rudolph:

I write in response to your letter of May 25, 2007, to Joseph C. Gratz. In that letter, you state that Wyeth is in full compliance with the Court's October 26, 2006 Order requiring the production of certain documents from the Teva litigation.

Per the Court's October 26, 2006 order, Wyeth was to produce documents from the Teva Litigation relating to validity and enforcement of the patent at issue. 10/26/06 Order at 2. Wyeth has produced its Moving Summary Judgment Brief, its Rule 56.1 Statement, and the supporting declaration and exhibits. Wyeth has not, however, produced the Teva Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment of No Infringement and No Willful Infringement, Teva's Rule 56.1 Statement or the accompanying declarations and exhibits (the "Teva Summary Judgment briefing"). Sealed per Dkt. Nos. 161 & 162. Impax believes the Teva Summary Judgment briefing bears on the validity and enforcement of Wyeth's patents. Please confirm that Wyeth will produce these documents before the end of next week.

Sincerely,

Courtney Towle

Dear Ms. Rudolph:

I write in furtherance of my June 11, 2007 letter to you in which I requested production of the Teva Defendants' summary judgment motion and related briefing. As stated in my last letter, Impax believes the Teva summary judgment briefing bears on the validity and enforcement of Wyeth's patents and must be produced pursuant to the Court's October 26, 2006 order.

I have not received a response regarding my request. Please provide a response by Wednesday June 27, 2007.

Wyeth v. Impax Laboratories, Inc., Civil Action No.: 06-222 (D. Del.)

Dear Ms. Towle:

I write in response to your letters of June 11, 2007, and June 25, 2007. We maintain our position that Wyeth is in full compliance with the Court's October 26, 2006 Order ("the Order").

While the Order did require the production of certain documents from the Teva litigation related to the validity and enforcement of the patent in issue, it did not contemplate documents related to the issue of infringement. Impax has requested production of "Teva Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment of No Infringement and No Willful Infringement" and accompanying declarations and exhibits ("the briefing"), which falls outside the scope of documents contemplated in the Order. As suggested by the title, the briefing reflects Teva's arguments on infringement and willful infringement. Moreover, the briefing contains Teva confidential information that is subject to a protective order.

For these reasons, we believe Impax's assertion that the briefing relates to validity and enforcement of the patents in suit is incorrect, and we do not intend to produce these documents.

Sincerely,

Re: Wyeth v. Impax Laboratories, Inc., Civil Action No.: 06-222 (D. Del.)

Dear Ms. Rudolph:

I write in furtherance of our phone conversation earlier today.

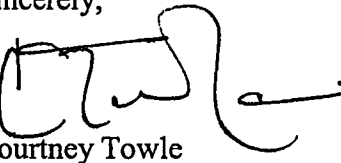

Per your letter of June 26, 2007, Wyeth refused to produce any of the briefing for Teva's summary judgment motion on the basis that the title of the motion, "Teva Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment of No Infringement and No Willful Infringement," indicates that the motion addresses only infringement. The Court's October 26, 2006 Memorandum Order required Wyeth to produce documents from the Teva litigation "dealing with claim construction and patent validity," as well as documents relating to the enforcement of the patents in suit. Because of the title of Teva's motion, you take the position that the briefing is not within the scope of documents ordered to be produced. During our July 3, 2007 conversation, you said that you would review the briefing to determine whether it addressed issues on which Wyeth was ordered to produce. Please inform Impax of the outcome of this review and whether or not Wyeth will produce this briefing no later than July 5, 2007.

During or July 3, 2007 conversation, I also requested production of the full briefing on Wyeth's motion for summary. In your May 25, 2007 letter to Joseph C. Gratz, you state that Wyeth has fully complied with the Court's order regarding production of Teva litigation documents. Wyeth's production included Wyeth's summary judgment motion and supporting declaration, WYETH 318-009618-012820. The remainder of the briefing on the motion, however, has not been produced. In the motion, Wyeth argues for summary judgment on validity issues, including enablement, written description, and anticipation, which clearly fall within the scope of the documents ordered to be produced. Please confirm no later than

Thursday, July 5, 2007 that Wyeth will produce the full briefing on Wyeth's motion for summary judgment.

Wyeth v. Impax Laboratories, Inc., Civil Action No.: 06-222 (D. Del.)

Dear Ms. Towle:

I write in response to your letter of July 3, 2007.

We reviewed the briefing on "Teva Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment of No Infringement and No Willful Infringement" ("Teva's motion"), and confirm that Teva's motion addresses issues of infringement and willful infringement. Because Teva's motion falls outside the scope of documents contemplated in the Court's October 26, 2006 Order and contains Teva confidential information, we do not intend to produce this briefing.

With respect to your request for the production of the full briefing on Wyeth's Motion for Summary Judgment ("Wyeth's motion"), we have reviewed Wyeth's motion and agree that a portion of it pertains to validity issues. Therefore, to the extent that the remaining briefing relates to the issue of validity, we will produce a redacted version.

Sincerely,
